DETAILED ACTION

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the tubular toilet paper roll 12 is known in the art as a "core"; "roll" is not an accurate description of element 12 since "roll" usually means something rolled up. It is recommended that all reference to element 12 be described as a tubular toilet paper roll core. Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

For clarity and/or definiteness, it appears that --core—should be inserted after "roll" (claim 1, line 3, and all others referring to same element).

All claims should be revised carefully to correct all other deficiencies similar to the ones noted above.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

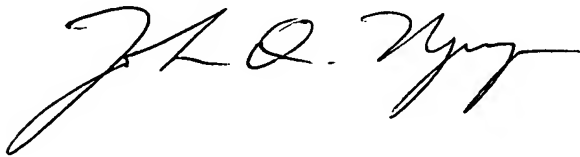

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Kaufman et al (US-2003/0200923). Kaufman et al discloses a toilet paper roll core of absorbent material (see at least Fig. 7) scented with liquid fragrance. Toilet paper is subsequently wound on the core. To wrap the toilet paper roll product after it's produced with a material impervious to the scent is deemed inherent or, alternatively, obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to retain the scent until the product is used, as such is old and well known in the art and Official notice is hereby taken of such.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Coakley (US-6425530) is cited to show another similar product.
